Introduction

1. GCSE subject criteria set out the knowledge, understanding, skills and assessment objectives common to all GCSE specifications in leisure and tourism. They provide the framework within which an awarding body creates the detail of the specification.
2. Specifications must also meet the regulators' general requirements, including the common and GCSE criteria as defined in The statutory regulation of external qualifications (QCA/04/1293).
3. Subject criteria are intended to:
 - help ensure consistent and comparable standards in the same subject across the awarding bodies
 - ensure that the rigour of GCSE is maintained
 - ensure that specifications build on the knowledge, understanding and skills established by the national curricula for England, Northern Ireland and Wales, and facilitate progression to higher level general or vocational qualifications in leisure and tourism or related sectors of employment
 - help higher education institutions, employers and other stakeholders such as learners and parents/guardians know what has been studied and assessed.
4. Any GCSE specification that contains significant elements of leisure and tourism must be consistent with the relevant parts of these subject criteria.

Aims and learning outcomes

5. GCSE specifications in leisure and tourism should encourage learners to be inspired, moved and changed by studying a broad, coherent, satisfying and worthwhile course of study and gain an insight into related sectors such as business, retail and distribution, and hospitality and catering. They should prepare learners to make informed decisions about further learning opportunities and career choices.
6. GCSE specifications in leisure and tourism must enable learners to:
 - actively engage in the study of leisure and tourism to develop as effective and independent learners, and as critical and reflective thinkers with enquiring minds
 - understand the nature of the leisure and tourism industry

- develop an understanding of the contribution that leisure and tourism makes to society and the economy
